DAWES HITS HARD AT LA FOLLETTE AND HIS POLICY

By ALBERT B. BAENZIGER
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

Enroute with Dawes to Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 19.—Gen. Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate today tore into the platform of Senator Robert M. La Follette, Progressive standard bearer, with its proposed constitutional changes in a series of three minute speeches to crowds which gathered about his special train during brief stops, along his route.

"Your duty on November 4 is as much of a call to the colors as any war call," Gen. Dawes declared.

"Politicians and demagogues are trying to make a football out of the inalienable rights guaranteed you by the constitution. This is the primary issue of the campaign and it should be answered definitely at the polls in November.

At Freeport there was a "pipe" stampede. The General had produced his underslung pipe and was explaining that it was not an effectation but a habit, when a grizzled old veteran stepped up, produced a similar pipe and asked the General to "fill or up with some real stuff." The candidate pulled out his tobacco pouch and complied with the request. Instantly hundreds of underslung pipes appeared from pockets and a rush was made to get some of the General's tobacco. A discreet conductor pulled the cord, however, and the train pulled out.

The General will make his second agricultural speech tonight at Sioux Falls, S. D., following which he will return to Chicago to rest until next Thursday, when he will invade Minnesota.

VISITING OLD HOME FRIEND

Ira Thompson, a former Clearfield settler who left here about 50 years ago and settled in Brooklyn, Iowa, is back on a visit to home friends. He was a son of the late Robert Thompson, who resided in Spruce Street for many years.

James W. Carter employed at the City Bakery, returned home yesterday after spending a week with relatives in LaPorte, Westover and Patto.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fargo and son motored across the mountain Sunday to DuBois.

James Woods was called to Altoona to see his brother A. S. Woods, who is in a critical condition. He was accompanied by his sister Mrs. David McGarvey.

ALIENIST WHITE IS TO TRY TO SAVE 18 YEAR OLD MURDERER

Washington, Sept. 19 (INS).—Dr. William A. White, noted alienist of St. Elizabeth's Hospital here, whose testimony at Chicago helped to save Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb from the gallows, will be called upon next month to do a similar service for Edward Randolph Perrygo, 22, who killed a woman here four years ago and who is condemned to be hanged on November 14.

An appeal from the hanging decision will be taken up by the District of Columbia Supreme Court in October and a renewed effort will be made to have Perrygo's sentence commuted to life imprisonment on the ground that he was mentally irresponsible. Dr. White "was one of the alienists who testified for the defense at Perrygo's first trial and is expected to come forward again in a new effort to save the boy.

Perrygo committed murder to get money for a girl who he intended to marry. The murdered woman was 69 years old. He struck her over the head with an iron bar, took the money and left, without any effort to conceal the crime or establish an alibi.

"The essential childish nature of this crime," says Dr. White in his book on "insanity and the criminal law," "is apparent to any one accustomed to an unprejudiced evaluation of human conduct."

Dallas, Texas, Is Next Objective Of Flyers; Hop Off Made Today

Muskogee, Okla., Sept. 19. (INS).—The three "round-the-world" flyers hopped off at 12-26 p. m. today for Dallas, Texas, after having been delayed for almost four hours because of a heavy rain storm.

HUNTERS GETTING BUSY

County Treasurer Gertrude Rumbarger, 19, resident in a brand splinter new mud stock waist, was busy as the proverbial "nailer" today equipping the "early bird" hunter with his 1924 hunter's license. Up to noon an even 2,000, out of the army of 12,000 Clearfield county hunters had secured their coveted permit and greased the Treasurer's palm with the required $1.25 per.

James A. Drain of Washington, D. C., has served for 20 months as commander of the Department of the District of Columbia in the American Legion.

He has been active as chairman of the Fourth District Rehabilitation Committee of the Legion, an important position because of its location at the national capital. He has been a member of the national executive committee and of the board of directors of the American Legion Weekly.

Born in Warren county, Illinois, on September 30, 1870, Drain practiced law in Nebraska, Washington state New York and the national capital. He is chairman of the executive committee of the National Guard Association and president of the National Rifle Association of America.

Only five men were nominated for vice commanders and since all were to be elected, a motion was carried to make it unanimous without formality of a vote. Those elected are: Peyton H. Hoge, Jr., of Louisville; Eugene Armstrong, Connecticut state commander; Frank McFarland, of Kansas City; A. L. Perry, of Panama, and William Stearns.

DAVIS MINCES NO WORDS IN HOTTEST CAMPAIGN SPEECH

As He Draws Towards the East Democratic Candidate Launches
Avalanche of Charges.

SURE OF VICTORY

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHISON
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

Chicago, Sept. 19.—With the Illinois Democracy swarming to his standard, John W. Davis faced to the east today to lay down anew his governmental program for American labor.

The Democratic nominee will speak tonight in Gary Ind., on the problems of organized labor. He planned to repeat his declarations for "right of labor to organize, bargain collectively and to contract its own working conditions" within the very glow of blast furnaces. His advisers looked upon the engagement in the steel town as even more important bid for the workers support than his Labor Day address at Wheeling, W. Va.

When Davis arose this morning he voiced enthusiastically predictions of victory in November.

"I am perfectly confident that this is a Democratic year," he declared. "I predict this not because of the enthusiasm among Democrats nor by the great interest manifested in the Democratic doctrine of honest government, but because I am told universally by men and women of every rank and opinion that the American people are resolved to accept the services of the Democratic party."

In his address, deep in the stockyard district, Davis was cheered so much and so often that he finally appealed to the happy crowd to "share half the time with him" that he might conclude his speech.

Davis poked ironic criticism at President Coolidge, predicted a Democratic victory, charged Republican cabinet members with "corruption," demanded an official housecleaning denounced the Ku Klux Klan by inference and laid down a new creed for "100 per cent Americans."

Twenty thousand persons heard his address and thousands more were turned away.

The big crowd cheered Davis when he laid down his creed for "100 per cent Americans," and when he declared again for the "constitutional guarantee of personal liberty," when he demanded "freedom of religious worship" and for "freedom against unlawful search and seizure."

"I know the tests by which I should determine a 100 per cent American," Davis said. "I should do it not by his color, not by his race, not even by the history of his origin or the length of his sojourn in America."

The real test of a "100 per cent American," Davis said, was in subscribing to the opening paragraph of the Declaration of Independence which asserts "all men are created equal" and endowed "with the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Twice the great audience cheered at anti-Klan denunciations, portions of the Davis address. On one occasion, he declared for "equal opportunity, so that no line of caste shall ever throw its shadow across the path of an American boy or girl" of the other, he said:

"Whenever any group of men assume to take to themselves the domination of the Government of the United States or any state, and use it for purposes of their own personal profit and advancement, they infringe on that great principle (popular sovereignty) and it is the duty of the American people to drive them from the seats they have disgraced."

Davis planned to attend an American League baseball game here this afternoon and to leave for Gary this evening on his special train. He will return to Chicago tonight and leave Saturday morning for the east.

Enroute he has speaking engagements in LaPorte, South Bend and Fort Wayne. The first is a rear end speech, the second an outdoor rally at noon, and the last a night speech

Bigler Lad Runs Into Automobile; Suffers A Severe Leg Fracture

Dorsey Williams, a 10-year-old Bigler boy, was brought to the Clearfield hospital last evening suffering with a fractured leg and numerous cuts and bruises received when he was knocked down and run over by an automobile driven by a neighbor named Knepp.

The Williams lad was playing ball with a number of other boys and ran out into the road directly in front of the Knepp car and so close that it was impossible for the driver to avert the accident.

WILL DEFEND KIDNAPPER

Glarence R. Kramer, of the law firm of Kramer & Kramer, and Ross Pentz, of the DuBois law firm of Pentz & Pentz, have been retained by Mrs. Alameda Hall, the kidnapper of little Billy Parker. The Hall woman's case is scheduled for trial on Monday, September 22nd and promises to be highly interesting.

The woman's husband and father, who are jointly indicted with her on the kidnapping charge, are not listed for trial at this term of court, the action against them will depend largely on the developments incident to the trial of the woman, the real kidnapper.

ENTERTAINED THEIR WIVES

The members of the Goshen Rod and Gun Club, who have some reputations as entertainers, were hosts to their wives and sweethearts last evening at their beautiful camp and, in the language of one of the members, "the old girls the time of their abbed-haired lives."

SNOW FALL IN IDAHO

Logan, Utah, Sept. 19 (INS).—Three inches of snow fell during the night at Montpelier, Idaho. The snow, it is feared, will do considerable damage to crops.

Forbes And Thompson Denied Demurrers And Must Stand Jury Trial

Chicago, Sept. 19 (INS).—Demurrers to the bribery indictment against Col. Chas. F. Forbes, former head of the United States Veterans Bureau, and John W. Thompson, millionaire St. Louis contractor, were dismissed in Federal court here today and the defendants ordered to stand trial.

The date for the trial will be set at a hearing October 11.

The date for the trial will be set at a hearing October 11.

POLICE COURT BLUES

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 19.—(INS).—Raymond Lahiff, 25, wanted a million dollars but he got a bed in jail last night. Raymond was stranded here and wired his home in Williamstown, Mass., asking that a million dollars be sent to him. Telegraph Company employees thought the sum too large for a young man to have in a big city, and police investigation revealed that Williamstown authorities thought the man mentally imbalanced.

MAY CLOSE COUNTY FOR THE HUNTING OF PHEASANT NEXT FALL

DuBois, Sept. 18.—The hunting season is still many weeks off but that season is at hand when the attention of sportsmen is being turned toward the woods and game fields and the possibilities of the coming hunting season.

Dogs are being trained, hunting camps are being fixed up and put into condition during the season when travel is easy over the mountain roads, and the prospects of a plentifulness of game are being surveyed. It is the consensus of opinion so far, that rabbits will not be nearly as plentiful as for several seasons, and pheasants will be scarce.

The wet weather and short warm season are held responsible for this shortage of game. The pheasant hunting prospects in Clearfield county are so poor that sportsmen have already started a move to have the county closed for birds. This will be impossible to be made effective for the 1924 season, but it is regarded as likely that the country will close for the 1925 season.

It is not too early for the hunters to acquaint themselves with the game laws, particularly those details that are easily forgotten and the following summary of the rules will be a reminder for the nimrods:

FIRE OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN DESTROYS TIPPLE

Washington, Pa., Sept. 19. (INS).—Fire of unknown origin which completely destroyed the tipple of the Eclipse mine at Thomas, Pa., near here, was believed under control today after causing damage estimated at $40,000. Five men who were working in the mine when the blaze broke out late last night escaped through an air shaft. If the fire had started earlier, officials said it would have endangered the lives of 150 miners who left it at the end of yesterday's work.

The mine which is owned by the Eclipse Gas Coal Co., of this city, is of the shaft opening type and damage to timber in the entrance will prevent operation for some time.

LEAD ALL SPORTS—

Washington, Sept. 19. (INS).—With the Washington and New York teams running a neck and neck race for the American League pennant, the national capital has swept aside affairs of state and is frankly devoting its chief interest to baseball.

Hopes of seeing a world series on the home grounds have aroused the fans. The electric score boards of the newspapers are their principal gathering places when the Griffins are playing away from home, special details of police being required to block off portions of the streets for the baseball-mad crowds.

Government officials and employees, including President Coolidge, keep a daily check on the successes of the Griffins and the Yankees, exchanging

Clearfield county will have a murder trial on the schedule of its December term criminal list following the death in the Cottage Hospital at Philipsburg, of John DeBloss, aged 38, of Chester Hills.

Several days ago DeBloss and a fellow workman engaged in a rough and tumble battle at the Chester Hill brickworks, where both were employed. During the fight his adversary got DeBloss's thumb in his mouth and bit it severely. The wound became infected, blood poison developed and DeBloss was taken to the hospital where his death occurred on Monday or Tuesday last.

When apprised of the death of DeBloss District Attorney Arnold had Dr. Fussell, pathologist at the Clearfield Hospital go over to Philipsburg and hold a post mortem on the body in order to determine the exact cause of death for the purpose of the trial for murder of the man who did the biting.

SYKESVILLE MINES BEING STARTED UP; REGION JUBILANT

DuBois, Sept. 19.—One of the best bits of industrial news this section has had in recent months is the announcement that the big battery of coke ovens of the Cascade Coal & Coke Co., at Sykesville, were refired yesterday, and that before the end of the week 500 men will be back at work in the mines and at the ovens of the Cascade Company.

The Cascade mine and coke plant at Sykesville suspended operations early last spring and at the time it was feared that there would never be resumption of the coking plant because of the belief that coal could be transported to the lakes and disposed of cheaper than to put it through the coking process with the equipment at hand.

For that reason and because of the industrial situation with regard to coal mining that has prevailed all summer, the resumption of the coking plant is particularly interesting here because of the general improvement it is believed to portend.

Sykesville has long been regarded as one of this city's most valuable suburbs and the suspension of the mines and coke ovens has been most impressively felt in this city. Likewise, the resumption with the prospect of it will mean for Sykesville will be equally appreciated in DuBois.

It is understood to be the intent of the Cascade company to work its mines and ovens to capacity and the men are being returned to work in small groups, pending the signing of additional coke ovens.

CELEBRATING 114TH BIRTHDAY

New York, Sept. 19. (INS).—Mrs. Mashe Urdang celebrated her 114th birthday today in the Harlem Home for the Daughters of Israel with a birthday cake with 114 candles.

Among those present was Michael her "kid brother," only 100 years old and her son, an infant of 39. Five other old men and women in the institution helped her eat the birthday cake.

Mrs. Urdang eats no eggs or meat and few fruits or vegetables. Her diet consists chiefly of cereal, soup and coffee.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 19 (INS)—Indictment of Doctor Cornelius M. Daily, prominent local physician, for murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Anna Manbeck, a widow, found dead in his office last June was to be asked of the Grand Jury here today.

If Dr. Daily is indicted, he will probably be placed on trial on Nov. 15, a special session of criminal court. Mr. Daily said Manbeck shot him and then killed herself. Discrepancies were found in his story however, and he was held for murder.

Philadelphia—Ill luck, which has pursued the family of Harry Oswald for several weeks, took its severest toll late yesterday when Charles Oswald, 34, fell into an old well on the grounds of an abandoned textile mill and was drowned. The boy's sister is seriously ill with pneumonia, his mother recently suffered a fractured skull, and his father lost two fingers in an accident.

Philadelphia—A dispute between two messengers in the postal service ended seriously last night when one drew a pistol and shot the other in the leg while scores looked on. Joseph Kelly, 17, was arrested after a chase and charged with shooting Samuel Richman, 20.

Philadelphia—Sir Ernest Rutherford, of Cambridge University, England, told an audience at the Franklin Institute centenary celebration here last night how he has succeeded in breaking up the atom, formerly considered the smallest possible chemical unit.

Sir Ernest said he is now going to smash the atoms of 13 different elements.

Using wasted energy. A French scientist has installed in his home a scheme to provide himself with electricity without cost beyond the initial cost of equipment. Upon his waterworks pipe, he has fitted a high-speed water turbine, which drives a dynamo charging a storage battery. Every time a tap is turned on in the house the stream of water is put to work at loading the battery which furnishes current for the electric lights and other purposes. "It is simply utilizing energy that is ordinarily wasted," says the inventor.

Ruskin's Wish Fulfilled. Did Ruskin anticipate the founding of the boy scouts and girl scouts? It would seem so from the following note to "Nesbitt and Lillies," which was published in 1885: "I wish there were a true order of chivalry instituted for our English youth of certain ranks in which each boy and girl should receive, at a given age, their knightship and knighthood by true title; attainable only by certain probations and trial both of character and accomplishment; and to be bestowed on conviction by their peers of any dishonorable act."—New York Evening Post.

Englishman's Afternoon Tea. Writes an Englishwoman: "The Frenchman dines with mellowness and joy in living. The American thrills by doing something differently. The German expands under the influence of opera with ham sandwiches. The English love of formalism makes tea a regular institution, and then proceeds about it except its everyday existence. Nor does this apply to any particular class. The cottage tea, with its big loaf and its thick black liquor, is just as much of an institution as is the cathedral tea, with its delicate bread from China and the bread and butter. There is the same warm and generous feeling about it as in the crispness of the falling leaf and the pungent smell of the burning and the glow of the sunset against the blue mist of the darkening afternoon."

The Unloved Task. Even when we have learned the ordinary duties of life, so they no longer have power to fret us or rob us of sleep, the unaccustomed, or the unwanted retains a nightmare hold upon nerves and brain. How often we dislike a duty simply because it interferes with a plan, and we stew over the difficulties of our particular lot and sink the obstacle to peace in the same quietness of spirit we bring to the task we love. It is, perhaps, too much to ask of humankind that work we love shall be as alluring as that we loathe. But need the unloved task as a challenge to strength and patience, as without any doubt, in the light of the sacred something we need to do for our soul's good and get it done and over with.

Accuracy Always Valued. We all admire the thorough, painstaking person, for the reason that we know such persons place the right kind of an estimate on accuracy. True, they may not be regarded as having attained any speed records, but that fact gives us absolutely no concern. We believe in them because we know that they may in every situation be relied upon and we to our way happy in the knowledge that work turned out by such persons will fully "measure up."

All He Could Say for Them. Two famous actors, novices at the game, were playing golf. They were gradually but surely reducing the turf to an approximation of a plowed field. Finally their caddies felt that they could stand it no longer. One turned to the other with: "Did you say then we are actors, Jim?" "Yes, Jo," admitted the second, anguish and apology struggling in his voice. "Well," said the first, "all I can say is they can't make good scene shifters."

"Indeed?" replied the envoy, "nearly" "Indeed?" "Aren't the public asked to cross it?" "Not they," answered the driver. "It's been closed as unsafe for years."

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

A feature writer in a recent issue of the New York American hit the nail on the head several times in the following article on our public schools:

"A public school is the most American thing we have; its results are more like the flag than the results of anything else."

"Children come nearer getting a square deal in school than anywhere else, for childhood is the recipient nine-tenths of this life's brutality."

"Some teachers have pets and some teachers are so grouchy they should not work with the delicate stuff child minds are made of, but in the main the teacher gives a square deal and renders an incomparable service."

"Think what the public school does for slum children; it takes them away from filth, hunger, despair, and, leading them into a marvelous land of knowledge, bids them take all they can carry away!"

"To many children the public school is a respite from home cruelty, a vacation from grizzly bear firesides; the State gives countless boys and girls the only kindness they ever know."

"And this public school saves the lives of countless parents; if families were canned up at home all winter, an unbroken procession of ambulances would unload saving mothers to the asylums of our beloved land."

"Yes, some teachers are porcupines, but think of the wilderness of wild brutality we hand them—the mountain range of awful environment, and in return we expect these teachers to give us Edisons, Lincolns, and also Shakespeares."

"The public school is wrong about many things; it teaches much that is untrue; it jams childhood into a mold of iron; it rams rubbish down revolting souls; it crucifies personality all because it must minister unto the multitudes."

"The judgements are barbarous whenever it makes children take a whole year over if they fail in one part out of four or five."

"The final examination system all wrong; the pupil's daily recitation are the only just record of his progress."

"Many times the burdens are too heavy for this usually the fault of the parent, who wish to rush their children through ahead of sched-

Why Crescent Is Turkish Symbol.

When Constantinople was a Byzantine city, Philip, the father of Alexander the Great, tried to reduce it by siege. He was unsuccessful by day, and when he thought to take the city by surprise in the dark the crescent moon and stars appeared and exposed his warriors to the citizens. In honor of her protection of the city the Byzantines built a statue to Diana and made the crescent the symbol of the city.

Old Roman Temple Found.

An ancient temple has been discovered in Rome. It is supposed to date from the time of Trajan (53-114 A. D.). The building is vaulted, and ornamented with columns and statues. The stucco work of the ceiling shows some very fine figures, one with open arms in the attitude of prayer, two offering a sacrifice, another the figure of a man leaning on a staff.

If earache does not occur often possibly home-treatment will alleviate the suffering, which is always so severe while it lasts. Wring out hot cloths and apply them to the ear. This is generally efficacious if the trouble is caused by the hardening of the wax.

The Balanced Nation.

We hear much of the balanced nation, and it is most important when you are feeding cows and chickens. But there is very little fear that the average healthy human being will fail to get an adequate amount and a proper and balanced proportion of the different kinds of food if he is given a good table and a free choice. There is no poorer economy than trying to skimp on food.—Washington Post.

Owl Stopped Wheels of Industry.

The curious combination of an owl and a steel trap in which the bird had become caught and flown away, trap and all, alighting on a high-powered electric cable carrying 11,000 volts of electricity to run a mill at Goolyear, Conn., stopped the power and threw several hundred men out of work for several hours. Linemen, after several hours' search, located the owl, burned it to a cinder.

Waiting Train Puller.

Viola had been to see Aunt Mary's beautiful church wedding and was much interested in the duties of the little train puller. The next day Viola was seen marching in the yard with an old lace curtain draped from her head, and little Jim was holding it up. When she was asked what they were playing, Viola replied: "Oh, we is just getting married. I'm the bride and he's the train puller."

When Ferns Become Yellow.

Place slices of raw potatoes around the ferns. The worms, which have been feeding upon the roots, will come out after the potato.

Elastic Horsehair.

British inventors have found that horsehair cushions provide enough elasticity to counteract the vibration of airplanes and make the use of magnetic compasses possible.

Boils!

Ouch!

S.S.S. will rid you of boils, pimples, blackheads and skin eruptions!

DON'T CLOSE your eyes to the warning which Nature gives when angry, painful boils appear on your neck, face or other parts of your body. Boils, pimples and so-called skin disorders are the result of an impoverished condition of the blood and are not to be trifled with.

It is nothing more than folly to expect to get absolute relief from the use of local treatments, such as ointments, salves, etc. Such remedies may afford temporary relief but you want more than relief; you want a remedy which will rid you forever of the torturing disorder. And the one remedy which has no equal is S.S.S.

S.S.S. stops boils and keeps them from coming. S.S.S. builds blood-power! That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils! It fights skin eruptions—pimples, blackheads, eczema! It always wins! S.S.S. has been known since 1826 as one of the greatest blood builders, blood cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today and clear your skin of those blood disorders!

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

WORK FOR BOYS

The family of Richard Loeb has learned something from the fate of that misguided youth, and is determined that no other members shall follow his disastrous course. The solution is a simple one.

Richard, they figure, went wrong because of indulgence, idleness and responsibility. There will be no more coddling of Loeb sons. Thomas, aged 12, still at a formative age, has been sent to a big farm owned by the family in Michigan. He will be obliged to work as hard and continuously as the son of any poor farmer in the neighborhood, rising at dawn, doing regular chores and any other work assigned him. His older brother, Ernest, has been made manager of the farm and spends his whole time directing it.

Let this example be applied in a few thousand other cases around the country, and there will be some profit, after all, from that hideous Chicago murder.

TELEPHONE FAILINGS

"The telephone operator is often blamed by patrons," says an Illinois editor, "but the operator is an expert and is more apt to speak correctly than the individual who grabs up the instrument excitedly and jabbers instead of speaking softly, distinctly and carefully. The Eleventh Commandment might be, 'Remember thine own shortcomings'."

There is more truth than poetry in this testimonial to the long-suffering exchange girl. Despite her occasional lapses from perfection, she is, indeed, usually an "expert" in her line. Patrons could benefit greatly by observing and imitating her careful enunciation, her directness, her brevity and attention to business and her ability to get the most effective use out of a telephone instrument. Many an operator can communicate over a wire more clearly in a whisper than some subscribers do by shouting.

When all's said, however, the most admirable characteristic of the typical telephone operator is her patience with a careless, impatient and exasperating public. When she is treated as intelligently and courteously as she treats subscribers, there is seldom any trouble.

UNMENED ROADS

In a county where the main highways are going to pieces for lack of teamwork between the county and the incorporated villages and towns, a highway engineer makes this impressive statement:

"An expenditure of $50 a year will keep a mile of new pavement from deterioration. Neglect the road for a few years, and it will cost $5,000 to patch it."

These figures need not be taken too literally nor the contrast stretched too far. It is not likely that the $5,000 required to patch up a mile of long-neglected pavement would preserve a new pavement in its original perfection for 100 years. Yet there is more truth than fancy in the figures, and they drive home a needed lesson.

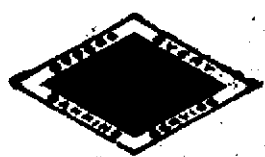

England has long been famous for its roads. Until the advent of the automobile, it maintained its macadam roads in perfect condition by keeping a road-mender and a stone pile along every main road at regular intervals of a mile or two, and it now maintains more solid pavements by the same policy. Americans are spending billions a year on new paving, and also losing billions a year because, when the paving is once laid, they usually neglect it for several years.

Checks Save Miles

A hundred years ago it was often necessary for a business man to travel many a rough mile with his money to settle an account.

Later it became possible to send his money by express. Today he merely sits at his desk and writes a check in settlement of an account at home or abroad.

A checking account at this bank is a mighty handy thing.

Progress Editorials for Women

WARDROBE PARADES

By FLORENCE L. LIES
Did it ever occur to you that we women aren't the senseless hoarders we are used to be?

Don't you remember the woman who kept stored up all her good linen and used second best for daily use? And the woman who kept the good china and silverware in a locked cabinet, and ate out of cracked ironstone and pewter? Also the woman who kept the old-fashioned parlor locked up and made the family sit uncomfortably in the kitchen?

They're practically all gone; when you do run across one of them nowadays you are struck with her oddity—and her futility.

But there was one hoarding trait which we used to accept as a common virtue; practically everybody kept their "best clothes" for state occasions and draped their bodies daily in poor seconds. We used to be told that if one were to be thought well-dressed she could never go out wearing her best new gown all the time.

We used to believe that. It's odd how times change ideas. In these days, when everybody wears her best as a matter of course, the world is noticeably better dressed. In the old days the best clothes got the parade, but the wearer was really occupying second place. The woman whose best clothes are worn only on special occasions is never really well-dressed at all. Her daily attire is obviously a penitential grubbing, a dutiful wearing out of old clothes. And the special occasions are quite as obviously an airing for the pride of the wardrobe; the wearer is too self-conscious of the fact to appear well-dressed, uncomfortable because of the strangeness of her clothes and her fear of hurting them.

No, if you can't wear clothes by living in them and up to them; if you and your clothes aren't one by association and affinity, you aren't well-dressed, now matter how many "best clothes" you may be wearing in the wardrobe parade.

GRAIN CLOSING

Chicago, Sept. 19. (INS).—The grain market was irregular at the close today.

Wheat finished 1/4 at 1/2 higher; corn closed 1/4 at 1/2 off; oats finished 1/4 off to 1/2 up.

The general news on wheat was bullish and the market displayed a firm undertone. There was a good class of commission house buying in evidence as well as short covering, the latter induced by the strength at Canada.

News from the corn belt was generally bearish and the nervous market reacted to it readily.

Oats were inclined to follow corn. Provisions showed a good advance, the market entirely ignoring the drop in hog prices.

Thomas Winston, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Dornan, East George street.

It is reported that Cecil Baer hid himself up to Endicott the other day and brought back with him a bride. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Baer, Susquehanna avenue.

Jared Bloom, Schofield street, celebrated her 71st birthday. A dinner was given to her by the ladies of the Presbyterian church in the basement parlors of that edifice. The old lady was the recipient of many congratulations by her hundred or more friends.

Messrs. Harry Gates and John Wright were in Punxsutawney Wednesday evening attending a session of the hardware men's association. It was a district affair and composed of three counties of which Clearfield is one.

From what information that the school board could gather yesterday from the members of the school board, the new heating system in the school building will be ready for use later than the last day of school, which means that there will be no suspension of school hours on Monday. Last week the pupils of the building lost several days of school on account of the rooms being closed for comfort.

Through Council met in executive session Wednesday evening the first meeting for over a month. All members were present, and quite a number of borough business were received at the meeting. A proposition for a new addition to the residents residing in the 15th addition in Second Ward was discussed at some length. The bridge to be reported as sold to Curwensville National Bank at par value. The Street and Sidewalk Commission reported on the duties that had been assigned to them a month previous. Several petitions were asked for new street crossings and some other business. A resolution was passed regarding Crescent Refractories Company for the loan of iron rails used in temporary bridge at foot of Walnut street, same having been returned in rather fair condition. A petition asking that Council pay for police service at the Park on Field Day. On motion a donation of five per cent which should have been paid to Park Fund, was rescinded and Field Day managers pay policemen from that fund. Secretary and members of Board of Health asked Council for a donation of $100.00 with which to meet current expenses. Tabled until an itemized statement is furnished by Board of Health.

The pay roll was a sort of a double header this time no wages for labor or bills having been paid out since last session of Council. Vouchers for street work, police, service, etc. were drawn for the amount of $592.33. Bills rendered and ordered paid, $726.32. The bridge question was not on the board this time, but Mr. Bloom made a clear and concise statement of the part he took in the changes that had been made while the bridge was under construction. By a unanimous vote his action regarding to any changes made under his sanction was acceptable to the members of Council and no reflection of "his taking the bull by the horns" as some termed it, was entertained by Council, either as a body or as individuals. No further business appearing on the record book, Council adjourned to meet again on first Monday in October.

The Curwensville High School football team opens the season tomorrow afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Football Park along the river bank, with the Falls Creek High School team. It is reported that the Falls Creek team is stronger this year than ever before. They expect to have a very easy game with the Curwensville boys. The Falls Creek boys have always been a clean and acceptable team. Coach Black says that he is willing to go down in defeat under such a good bunch of fellows but he feels that they will have to play hard to win.

Last night at the K-9 Kennel at Irwin Park Hon. Haley Betts and G. M. Alcorn, of DuBois, brought a large delegation from that city to be initiated into the Transcendental Order of Yellow Dogs. About 500 men were present to receive them. They went home feeling that it was a "worthwhile visit and that it pays to shake hands even across the mountains. Mr. Alcorn said that the DuBois people would see that the posts and trees along the State Highway were painted white.

Getting Stand of Sweet Clover on Alkali Soils

Farmers throughout the corn belt have found that in many cases it is possible to get a stand of sweet clover on alkali spots when it was impossible to grow anything else. In some cases corn might grow to a height of four or five feet but then it would dry and the soil would be so hard that it would be impossible to plow. Oats would crumble and go down.

Utilizing Sweet Clover Depends Upon Its Needs

The best way to utilize sweet clover depends largely upon whether hay or pasture is needed. The first crop of the second year, if cut early and high enough, may be used for hay, and the second crop come on for seed. It is advisable to cut the first crop just as the blossom buds form and before they come into bloom. At least two or three leaves should be left attached to the stubble of each plant. If the first crop is cut before the leaves and branches, there will be no second crop. When the second crop is harvested for seed, the seed should be threshed with a heavy application of straw horse manure. The main idea is to loosen up the soil and allow the alkali to seep down with the rains.

Farm Records Will Pay

It pays to keep farm records. Let each member of the family have a department in the ledger to keep up. It's a lot of satisfaction at the end of the year to know just how much you earned and how much you spent. Even if the "profits" are on the wrong side of the ledger, you'll feel better to have an accurate record rather than to guess at it.

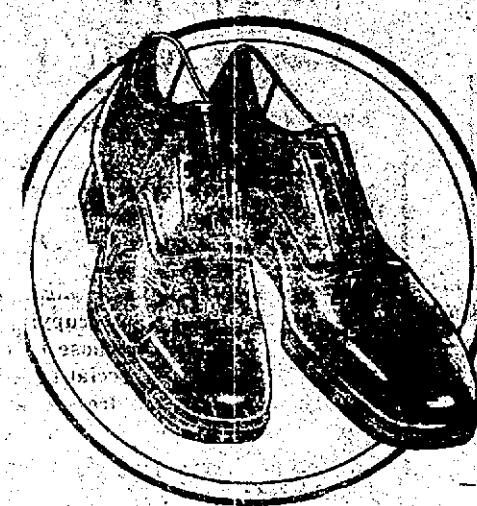

Feminine Nature.

Feminine nature, fortunately, remains about the same from generation to generation and, while we have no reliable statistics at hand at the moment, we do not believe that the higher education of women has resulted in any appreciable diminution in the world's supply of giggling.—Ohio State Journal.

Height of Clouds.

Thunderstorm clouds are very variable in height—from 500 to 2,000 feet. The clouds in thunderstorms may be very deep—from two to five miles and hence the appearance as to distance is very deceptive. Cumulus clouds are intermediate, and generally occupy a position from 2,000 to 5,000 feet above the earth.

He who gets all lit up on bootleg may shine for a while but soon will find himself out.

Very often, even in a seven-passenger car, three's a crowd. "Putting your best foot forward is all right, but you only move along by dragging up the other one."

There isn't any use in worrying over where we are headed. All of us have round-trip tickets.

Better be laying in a good supply of baths before the long cold spell.

Still waters, run deep, but they are full of snags.

More people would be good if being good was interesting.

The chief objection to a new stenographer is words fall her.

Some people don't worry for fear it won't last and others for fear it will last.

Renovating Strawberry Patch After Harvesting

The strawberry patch which has borne one crop should be renovated soon after harvest. This is done by plowing out the plants on either one or both sides of the row, leaving a strip only about four inches wide. The soil of the plowed land is thoroughly cultivated and, if a spike-toothed harrow is used, cross-cultivation may be practiced so that a good bed is made for the new runner plants. Under good soil conditions these will start to grow within a short time and will make a row of new plants 12 to 16 inches wide by early fall. The new plants are confined to the proper width by continuing cultivation until they cease to grow.

Usually it does not pay to renovate a commercial strawberry patch that has already produced two crops, although a home patch, under very favorable conditions, may be allowed to yield three and sometimes four crops.

Handling Broody Hens

Is Problem for Owners

How to handle the broody hen in the general purpose flock is a problem that confronts flock owners every summer. If there are such things as plagues in the poultry business the broody hen is perhaps the worst one. A good way to overcome the broody instinct is to confine the hens in slatted coops, suspended in the sheds. Confine them the first evening the remain on their nests, but feed and water abundantly the same as you do the non-broody hens.

Proper Temperature Is Important in Churning

No factor is so important in the proper temperature. The temperature will vary between the limits of 50 degrees in summer and 65 degrees in winter. For a minimum loss of fat in the buttermilk and a good firm butter the churning process should take from 30 to 45 minutes. When churning is accomplished in 10 or 15 minutes the butter always comes soft and there is a great loss of fat in the buttermilk.

Kill Gophers by Poison

Gophers can best be killed by placing poison in their burrows, according to C. E. Mickel, of the University of Minnesota. He recommends a mixture of one-eighth ounce of powdered strychnin alkaloid, one-eighth ounce of baking soda, and one-eighth ounce of succharin. These amounts are sufficient to poison four quarts of vegetable bait. Potatoes, carrots, parsnips, beets and turnips make especially good bait, covered with the poison.

Best Garden Fertilizer

While barnyard manure is the best fertilizer for the garden, still the garden fertilizer that comes in bags is a good substitute and has, at times, advantages of its own. Now, that automobiles and motor trucks are taking the place of horses there will be less horse manure and though cow manure can be substituted the results are not so satisfactory as when old-time manure consisting of both horse and cow manure was used.

The "Parakeet"

A small bird of the parrot family now rarely if ever seen in Indiana, was, half a century ago, somewhat numerous in the southern part of the state. This bird, the parakeet, or as called by the early settlers of this state, the "parakeet," is the Carolina parrot and is now scarcely known outside the swamps of Florida.

She Was Interested. A child who recently moved into the neighborhood became so interested in a young woman that daily she would wait for her to pass the house. One day she walked right in the woman's way and smiling said, "Whose mamma are you?"

Many Do. More advice is given and less followed on the subject of marriage than on anything else. A woman teacher who has preached against teachers marrying has acted contrary to her own advice.—Buffalo Commercial.

Wasting Her Time. "What do you think of a man who would spend his evening with his arm around the back of a girl's chair?" "Looks like wasting the girl's time. I'd let him spend the evening with the chair."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Salt Held in Reverence. The superstitions with regard to salt are endless. That the spilling of salt is unlucky is perhaps the commonest of all superstitious beliefs, and prevails in the kitchen as well as at the table. There are Scottish households where salt is still held in such reverence that the saltcellar used at the family table is invariably kept standing on the family Bible.

Broke Up Housekeeping. "We had to break up housekeeping because of my wife's stomach trouble. No medicine did her any good for more than a few hours. On a visit to Oshkosh a friend, praised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy so highly my wife tried it and she has enjoyed the best of health since taking it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the extraneous mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

SOMETIMES YOU TIRE OF HOME MEALS

don't you, and like to try something different at JORDAN'S restaurant? Come tonight for dinner or after-the-show supper and enjoy a dish of our famous oysters. A place where refined people gather to enjoy good things to eat and drink.

JORDAN'S

Prodigy

Forms Own Trimming

MATERIALS this season are easily manipulated to form their own trimming. Notice how in this frock of black crepe-back satin the skirt is made of reversed blocks of the material to form a deep border. A narrow band of fur trims the collar and cuffs and a few buttons and tailored bows are added at advantageous positions.

About Hobbies.

Every hobbyist can extol his hobby above all others and there is something to be said for each one. Collectors of every sort of objects, from shells to stamps; students of every subject, from snail shells to stars, find special mental reasons for interest in their particular line. And the reason for preference would make a very remarkable collection of wordy arguments.

Paper Plates for Pets.

Use paper plates for animal pets who will find a good and sanitary place to eat. Some people do not care to have the plates kept for dogs and cats, although they should be kept scrupulously clean and used for no other purpose. Why not, then, use paper plates, which may be bought by the hundreds for very little money, and which may be burned or thrown away after they have been used.

The Really Truthful Man.

A really truthful man is one who sticks to the facts in spite of opportunities to embellish his story with fiction.

Some Idea of a Garden.
Letter from a "moderately sensible" man to a seed merchant: "Dear Sir—Having one-quarter acre of ground not used for anything but growing potatoes. I wish to make it into a profitable and attractive garden. Please send me one dozen strawberry seeds; one bee with hive complete; one dozen plum seeds; ten square yards of grass; one concrete path, winding; six fall flowers, with six pieces of wall; one safety lawn mower, with patent apparatus for converting it into a safety razor. And please send enough baskets to hold the strawberry and plum crops, and side and back combs for the honey. The grass should be green—not the withered kind I see in so many gardens—and the seeds of a flavor unsuitable for chickens. Yours truly, A. F. Ool."

Prefer Irregular Lines.

The straight line is an abomination to the Chinese. They endeavor to avoid it in their streets and buildings, and have banished it completely, where country field paths are concerned. They will always substitute a curve wherever possible or they will texture it with a zigzag. To the Chinese mind the straight line is suggestive of death and demons.

We Ask Men

To protect their hair

By Edna Wallace Hopper
I speak for all women when I say that we want men to keep their locks. And above all, their hair.

The women do that. You would never forgive us if we did not. We beg you to follow our example.

My whole career on the stage has depended largely on my hair. So many years ago I went to France and secured the best hair helps she knew. And I have kept up with every new discovery.

The result is my hair as you see it. It is thick and lustrous, finer far than 40 years ago. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, and never a touch of gray. Now countless women who use what I use are attaining like results.

I am offering to women the best I have found, and men are always welcome. My Hair Youth combines the utmost that modern science knows. I am sure that no one knows anything for the hair which does what this combination does.

I apply it with an eye-dropper directly to the scalp. Applying tonics to the hair is ridiculous. The whole thing lies in the scalp, in the roots, and there my Hair Youth goes. It combats the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. It tones and stimulates the scalp. Hair thrives on such a soil as flowers thrive by like methods.

I believe that my Hair Youth now combines the greatest hair helps in existence. I have never seen anything else which brought comparable results.

Now I have placed it in every drug store, on every toilet counter. All who desire may obtain it. The name is Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth. I authorize every dealer to return the price to anyone who claims the slightest disappointment.

Soap Economy.

New soap is about the most expensive thing there is. If you possess it up at once into one and one-half inch thick blocks. Store these in very dry, rather warm cupboard, pile them up after the fashion of a child building bricks, i.e., so that they practically do not touch each other. The will then dry and harden right through, and while the cleansing power of the soap will be in no way diminished it will last twice as long.

There is but one straight road to success and that is merit.—Bourke Cochran.

All He Knew About His Meal.
Having finished his meal the diner called for his check. "Let's see," said the waiter, "what did you have?" "Can't tell for the life of me," was the reply; "but what I ordered was minced chicken."—Boston Transcript.

Queen of Hearts.
The name, Queen of Hearts, was given in the low countries to Elizabeth, daughter of James I and the unfortunate queen of Bohemia. When her fortune was at the lowest, she never lost her dignity of spirit, and poverty and distress only rendered her the more an object of admiration.

It Cannot Not Leak, Gas, Dust, or Smoke

The air is always warm and clean, never "gassy"—the housecleaning is never made a burden by fine soot and ashes settling everywhere—when your home is heated with a Round Oak Pipeless Heating System. It is bolted gas-tight for life—and "life" in its case means a whole generation.

Everything the Round Oak Folks make is good—as 3,000,000 purchasers can testify. This furnace is easy to install, easy to operate, and "easy" on fuel of any kind.

ROUND OAK IRONBILT FURNACE

Arrange for yours now. We can also make very liberal terms on immediate contracts. Service and quality considered, it is, without question, the greatest possible value. When you divide the investment into the years of its usefulness, you sense why it is the wise choice.

With Every "Round Oak" Purchased We Will Give FREE of Charge, One Little Draughtman Heat Regulator.

THE OTHELLO RANGE

A product which has become famous entirely through merit.

This range was first introduced to the trade in 1880. From the beginning, it demonstrated itself as being "so right" in principles of construction that there has never been found any room for improvement. Changes in its outward design have been called for, at intervals, in order that its appearance might be in keeping with the shifting demand for much, medium, or little ornamentation.

The marvelous sale of the Othello Range during the period of its history (forty-three years), is but another proof that there is always a market for the best. To say that three hundred thousand Othello Ranges are now in use, in the United States, would perhaps be under, rather than overstating the number. That it is a strictly high-grade range and commands a corresponding price, has interfered not one whit with the demand for it; showing how large a part of the purchasing public have the money, and are willing to lay it down, for the article which is right.

Great Free Offer During This Sale

With every OTHELLO range sold during the Fair we will give absolutely FREE one porcelain enamel kitchen table which ordinarily sells for $12. We do this as a special offer during Fair Week only.

SPORTS

New York, Sept. 19. (INS.)—The National League race today was tighter than a Scotchman during thirt week, with Brooklyn one-half game behind the Giants and Pirates two and a half games behind the champions still in the race. The Dodgers began their last hard series of season today with Pittsburgh, while the Giants took on the Cubs.

The Yankees and Senators were still crowding each other in the upper berth in the American League today, with fireworks in sight as the champions came to grips with the Tigers. The Senators took on the Browns whom they have found easy pickings all season.

TAGGING ALL BASES

The Reds threw a monkey wrench into McGraw's machine by trimming the Giants, 5 to 3, but the champions came back and won the second game 7 to 5 on Gowdy's single. Laque and Bentley were the winning pitchers.

Brooklyn sucked the Cardinals twice, 7 to 5 and 4 to 2, and crept up to within half a game of the Giants. Wheat's homer won the first game in the 12th as Vance hung up his 15th straight victory.

The Pirates passed up a chance to clinch by losing to the Phillies, 6 to 5, but stayed in the race by winning the next game in the ninth, 6 to 2.

The Senators maintained their dizzy pace both winning and remaining atop the lead. The champions lost the Browns in the 10th 2 to 1, a home run by Wagner, their south paw pin, after timing it up in the 9th to Bush's first home run of the season.

The Dodgers made it three straight by beating the Indians by a five-run rally in the ninth, 5 to 1, at Washington 9.

The Athletics made the Tigers look like a team by outlasting them in the 10th, 1 to 0, in the three-game series.

The White Sox drew further away from the leaders by triumphing over the Red Sox, 7 to 3. Eddie Collins had five hits in as many innings.

The Cubs and the Braves exchanged blows, the Braves winning the first game in the 11th 1 to 2, while the Cubs came out of the other in the 10th 1 to 0, behind Greenwich's homer in the 9th.

Up to the Standard.

People who go in for speed records are not as wise as they think they are; speed without accuracy is of no avail. True, time is at a premium in every line these days, and we should not under any circumstances waste a minute unnecessarily. But if we aren't sure about any phase of our work we must take sufficient time to go into it and not rely on chance to help us where we cannot possibly help ourselves.

To Polish Furniture.

To polish mahogany furniture, take a quart of clear water and a half a pound of good strong vinegar. Mix the solution in a clean glass jar and use as follows: Wipe the surface to be polished and polished with dry cloth. If first application does not improve the finish, repeat the operation in about a week.

Autumn's Finest Style Showing

Not Alone Quality but Reasonable Prices Prevail

Complete to the last detail are these showings of the authentic styles in Coats, Dresses and Millinery. They have been selected from thousands of models displayed by many of the world's foremost manufacturers and designers of women's wear. The smartness of design and trimming, the richness of materials and colorings and the beauty of the furs used on all fur-trimmed garments make them by far the choicest collection to be found anywhere. Choose your new garments for Fall and Winter now from these most favored styles of the new season.

CHARMING NEW FALL COATS

Characterized by the tendency toward simplicity, these coats forecast with absolute correctness the mode that is and which will be this Autumn and Fall. In their very plainness lies their charm, emphasized by contrasting color composition buttons and slight trimming features which are used with splendid taste. Fabrics, too, are highly interesting which, in conjunction with the varied styles, and attractive price range presents to every woman the opportunity to make a distinguished choice within her means of expenditure.

STYLISH FALL DRESSES

Sleeves of dresses are long and tight and are set in at the normal arm-hole. For the most part they are untrimmed. Novelty is occasionally introduced by the use of underarm patches in contrasting fabrics giving the effect of a camisole guimpe.

Dress trimmings feature braid, applique, motifs of cretonne embroidered in chenille, paillettes of kid, pipings of kid and buttons of all descriptions.

The new neckline is square or pointed and shows an encrusted collar in contrasting fabric; scarf collars of the fabric, which suggest the high collar style is also prominent.

Smart New Millinery

Autumn's rich colors add brilliance to fall hats. Small they are mostly, displaying high crowned shapes with narrow rolled or straight brims. In these types the Japanese influence is seen. Trimmings are conspicuous by their absence, a fancy band, or a band in itself fabric, a tuft of wings or aigrettes, or a single feather are decorative features. Diversity is the keynote of our millinery display, in shapes, color trend and price range.

DAWES HITS HARD AT LA FOLLETTE AND HIS POLICY

By ALBERT B. BAENZIGER
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

Enroute with Dawes to Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 19.—Gen. Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate today tore into the platform of Senator Robert M. La Follette, Progressive standard bearer, with its proposed constitutional changes in a series of three minute speeches to crowds which gathered about his special train during brief stops, along his route.

"Your duty on November 4 is as much of a call to the colors as any war call," Gen. Dawes declared.

"Politicians and demagogues are trying to make a football out of the inalienable rights guaranteed you by the constitution. This is the primary issue of the campaign and it should be answered definitely at the polls in November.

At Freeport there was a "pipe" stampede. The General had produced his underslung pipe and was explaining that it was not an effectation but a habit, when a grizzled old veteran stepped up, produced a similar pipe and asked the General to "fill or up with some real stuff." The candidate pulled out his tobacco pouch and complied with the request. Instantly hundreds of underslung pipes appeared from pockets and a rush was made to get some of the General's tobacco. A discreet conductor pulled the cord, however, and the train pulled out.

The General will make his second agricultural speech tonight at Sioux Falls, S. D., following which he will return to Chicago to rest until next Thursday, when he will invade Minnesota.

VISITING OLD HOME FRIEND

Ira Thompson, a former Clearfield settler, who left here about 50 years ago and settled in Brooklyn, Iowa, is back on a visit to home friends. He was a son of the late Robert Thompson, who resided in Spruce Street for many years.

James W. Carter employed at the City Bakery, returned home yesterday after spending a week with relatives in LaPorte, Westover and Patto.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fargo and son motored across the mountain Sunday to DuBois.

James Woods was called to Altoona to see his brother A. S. Woods, who is in a critical condition. He was accompanied by his sister Mrs. David McGarvey.

ALIENIST WHITE IS TO TRY TO SAVE 18 YEAR OLD MURDERER

Washington, Sept. 19 (INS).—Dr. William A. White, noted alienist of St. Elizabeth's Hospital here, whose testimony at Chicago helped to save Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb from the gallows, will be called upon next month to do a similar service for Edward Randolph Perrygo, 22, who killed a woman here four years ago and who is condemned to be hanged on November 14.

An appeal from the hanging decision will be taken up by the District of Columbia Supreme Court in October and a renewed effort will be made to have Perrygo's sentence commuted to life imprisonment on the ground that he was mentally irresponsible. Dr. White "was one of the alienists who testified for the defense at Perrygo's first trial and is expected to come forward again in a new effort to save the boy.

Perrygo committed murder to get money for a girl who he intended to marry. The murdered woman was 69 years old. He struck her over the head with an iron bar, took the money and left, without any effort to conceal the crime or establish an alibi.

"The essential childish nature of this crime," says Dr. White in his book on "insanity and the criminal law," "is apparent to any one accustomed to an unprejudiced evaluation of human conduct."

Flyer Harding's Goal

Ida Reussenzehn, clerk for the U. S. Air Service at Dayton, O., is to be married to Lieutenant Jack Harding, "round-the-world" flyer, after his trip. So says Mrs. Rumor.

Dallas, Texas, Is Next Objective Of Flyers; Hop Off Made Today

Muskogee, Okla., Sept. 19. (INS).—The three "round-the-world" flyers hopped off at 12-26 p. m. today for Dallas, Texas, after having been delayed for almost four hours because of a heavy rain storm.

HUNTERS GETTING BUSY

County Treasurer Gertrude Rumbarger, 19-plentiful in a brand splinter new must stock waist, was busy as the proverbial "nailer" today equipping the "early bird" hunter with his 1924 hunter's license. Up to noon an even 2,000, out of the army of 12,000 Clearfield county hunters had secured their coveted permit and greased the Treasurer's palm with the required $1.25 per.

James A. Drain of Washington, D. C., has served for 20 months as commander of the Department of the District of Columbia in the American Legion.

He has been active as chairman of the Fourth District Rehabilitation Committee of the Legion, an important position because of its location at the national capital. He has been a member of the national executive committee and of the board of directors of the American Legion Weekly.

Born in Warren county, Illinois, on September 30, 1870, Drain practiced law in Nebraska, Washington state New York and the national capital. He is chairman of the executive committee of the National Guard Association and president of the National Rifle Association of America.

Only five men were nominated for vice commanders and since all were to be elected, a motion was carried to make it unanimous without formality of a vote. Those elected are: Peyton H. Hoge, Jr., of Louisville; Eugene Armstrong, Connecticut state commander; Frank McFarland, of Kansas City; A. L. Perry, of Panama, and William Stearns.

DAVIS MINCES NO WORDS IN HOTTEST CAMPAIGN SPEECH

As He Draws Towards the East Democratic Candidate Launches Avalanche of Charges.

SURE OF VICTORY

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHISON
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

Chicago, Sept. 19.—With the Illinois Democracy swarming to his standard, John W. Davis faced to the east today to lay down anew his governmental program for American labor.

The Democratic nominee will speak tonight in Gary Ind., on the problems of organized labor. He planned to repeat his declarations for "right of labor to organize, bargain collectively and to contract its own working conditions" within the very glow of blast furnaces. His advisers looked upon the engagement in the steel town as even more important bid for the workers support than his Labor Day address at Wheeling, W. Va.

When Davis arose this morning he voiced enthusiastically predictions of victory in November.

"I am perfectly confident that this is a Democratic year," he declared. "I predict this not because of the enthusiasm among Democrats nor by the great interest manifested in the Democratic doctrine of honest government, but because I am told universally by men and women of every rank and opinion that the American people are resolved to accept the services of the Democratic party."

In his address, deep in the stockyard district, Davis was cheered so much and so often that he finally appealed to the happy crowd to "share half the time with him" that he might conclude his speech.

Davis poked ironic criticism at President Coolidge, predicted a Democratic victory, charged Republican cabinet members with "corruption," demanded an official housecleaning denouncing the Ku Klux Klan by inference and laid down a new creed for "100 per cent Americans."

Twenty thousand persons heard his address and thousands more were turned away.

The big crowd cheered Davis when he laid down his creed for "100 per cent Americans," and when he declared again for the "constitutional guarantee of personal liberty," when he demanded "freedom of religious worship" and for "freedom against unlawful search and seizure."

"I know the tests by which I should determine a 100 per cent American," Davis said. "I should do it not by his color, not by his race, not even by the history of his origin or the length of his sojourn in America."

The real test of a "100 per cent American," Davis said, was in subscribing to the opening paragraph of the Declaration of Independence which asserts "all men are created equal" and endowed "with the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

The great audience cheered at anti-Klan denunciations, portions of the Davis address. On one occasion, he declared for "equal opportunity, so that no line of caste shall ever throw its shadow across the path of an American boy or girl." Of the other, he said:

"Whenever any group of men assume to take to themselves the domination of the Government of the United States or any state, and use it for purposes of their own personal profit and advancement, they infringe on that great principle (popular sovereignty) and it is the duty of the American people to drive them from the seats they have disgraced."

Davis planned to attend an American League baseball game here this afternoon and to leave for Gary this evening on his special train. He will return to Chicago tonight and leave Saturday morning for the east.

Enroute he has speaking engagements in LaPorte, South Bend and Fort Wayne. The first is a rear end speech, the second an outdoor rally at noon, and the last a night speech

Bigler Lad Runs Into Automobile; Suffers A Severe Leg Fracture

Dorsey Williams, a 10-year-old Bigler boy, was brought to the Clearfield hospital last evening suffering with a fractured leg and numerous cuts and bruises received when he was knocked down and run over by an automobile driven by a neighbor named Knepp.

The Williams lad was playing ball with a number of other boys and ran out into the road directly in front of the Knepp car and so close that it was impossible for the driver to avert the accident.

WILL DEFEND KIDNAPPER

Glarence R. Kramer, of the law firm of Kramer & Kramer, and Ross Pentz, of the DuBois law firm of Pentz & Pentz, have been retained by Mrs. Alameda Hall, the kidnapper of little Billy Parker. The Hall woman's case is scheduled for trial on Monday, September 22nd and promises to be highly interesting.

The woman's husband and father, who are jointly indicted with her on the kidnapping charge, are not listed for trial at this term of court, the action against them will depend largely on the developments incident to the trial of the woman, the real kidnapper.

ENTERTAINED THEIR WIVES

The members of the Goshen Rod and Gun Club, who have some reputations as entertainers, were hosts to their wives and sweethearts last evening at their beautiful camp and, in the language of one of the members, "the old girls the time of their abbed-haired lives."

Forbes And Thompson Denied Demurrers And Must Stand Jury Trial

Chicago, Sept. 19 (INS).—Demurrers to the bribery indictment against Col. Chas. F. Forbes, former head of the United States Veterans Bureau, and John W. Thompson, millionaire St. Louis contractor, were dismissed in Federal court here today and the defendants ordered to stand trial.

The date for the trial will be set at a hearing October 11.

POLICE COURT BLUES

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 19.—(INS).—Raymond Lahiff, 25, wanted a million dollars but he got a bed in jail last night. Raymond was stranded here and wired his home in Williamstown, Mass., asking that a million dollars be sent to him. Telegraph Company employees thought the sum too large for a young man to have in a big city, and police investigation revealed that Williamstown authorities thought the man mentally imbalanced.

MAY CLOSE COUNTY FOR THE HUNTING OF PHEASANT NEXT FALL

DuBois, Sept. 18.—The hunting season is still many weeks off but that season is at hand when the attention of sportsmen is being turned toward the woods and game fields and the possibilities of the coming hunting season.

Dogs are being trained, hunting camps are being fixed up and put into condition during the season when travel is easy over the mountain roads, and the prospects of a plentifulness of game are being surveyed. It is the consensus of opinion so far, that rabbits will not be nearly as plentiful as for several seasons, and pheasants will be scarce.

The wet weather and short warm season are held responsible for this shortage of game. The pheasant hunting prospects in Clearfield county are so poor that sportsmen have already started a move to have the county closed for birds. This will be impossible to be made effective for the 1924 season, but it is regarded as likely that the country will close for the 1925 season.

It is not too early for the hunters to acquaint themselves with the game laws, particularly those details that are easily forgotten and the following summary of the rules will be a reminder for the nimrods:

FIRE OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN DESTROYS TIPPLE

Washington, Pa., Sept. 19. (INS).—Fire of unknown origin which completely destroyed the tipple of the Eclipse mine at Thomas, Pa., near here, was believed under control today after causing damage estimated at $40,000. Five men who were working in the mine when the blaze broke out late last night escaped through an air shaft. If the fire had started earlier, officials said it would have endangered the lives of 150 miners who left it at the end of yesterday's work.

The mine which is owned by the Eclipse Gas Coal Co., of this city, is of the shaft opening type and damage to timber in the entrance will prevent operation for some time.

LEAD ALL SPORTS—

Washington, Sept. 19. (INS).—With the Washington and New York teams running a neck and neck race for the American League pennant, the national capital has swept aside affairs of state and is frankly devoting its chief interest to baseball.

Hopes of seeing a world series on the home grounds have aroused the fans. The electric score boards of the newspapers are their principal gathering places when the Griffins are playing away from home, special details of police being required to block off portions of the streets for the baseball-mad crowds.

Government officials and employees, including President Coolidge, keep a daily check on the successes of the Griffins and the Yankees, exchanging

Clearfield county will have a murder trial on the schedule of its December term criminal list following the death in the Cottage Hospital at Philipsburg, of John DeBloss, aged 38, of Chester Hills.

Several days ago DeBloss and a fellow workman engaged in a rough and tumble battle at the Chester Hill brickworks, where both were employed. During the fight his adversary got DeBloss's thumb in his mouth and bit it severely. The wound became infected, blood poison developed and DeBloss was taken to the hospital where his death occurred on Monday or Tuesday last.

When apprised of the death of DeBloss District Attorney Arnold had Dr. Fussell, pathologist at the Clearfield Hospital go over to Philipsburg and hold a post mortem on the body in order to determine the exact cause of death for the purpose of the trial for murder of the man who did the biting.

SYKESVILLE MINES BEING STARTED UP; REGION JUBILANT

DuBois, Sept. 19.—One of the best bits of industrial news this section has had in recent months is the announcement that the big battery of coke ovens of the Cascade Coal & Coke Co., at Sykesville, were refired yesterday, and that before the end of the week 500 men will be back at work in the mines and at the ovens of the Cascade Company.

The Cascade mine and coke plant at Sykesville suspended operations early last spring and at the time it was feared that there would never be resumption of the coking plant because of the belief that coal could be transported to the lakes and disposed of cheaper than to put it through the coking process with the equipment at hand.

For that reason and because of the industrial situation with regard to coal mining that has prevailed all summer, the resumption of "ascend" is particularly interesting here because of the general improvement it is believed to portend.

Sykesville has long been regarded as one of this city's most valuable suburbs and the suspension of the mines and coke ovens has been most impressively felt in this city. Likewise, the resumption with the prospect of it will mean for Sykesville will be equally appreciated in DuBois.

It is understood to be the intent of the Cascade company to work its mines and ovens to capacity and the men are being returned to work in small groups, pending the signing of additional coke ovens.

CELEBRATING 114TH BIRTHDAY

New York, Sept. 19. (INS).—Mrs. Mashe Urdang celebrated her 114th birthday today in the Harlem Home for the Daughters of Israel with a birthday cake with 114 candles.

Among those present was Michael her "kid brother," only 100 years old and her son, an infant of 89. Five other old men and women in the institution helped her eat the birthday cake.

Mrs. Urdang eats no eggs or meat and few fruits or vegetables. Her diet consists chiefly of cereal, soup and coffee.

PENNSY-GRAMS

Harrisburg—The eleventh auxiliary State Game Refuge has been established on Tuscarora Mountain, Franklin county. It consists of 1204 acres of land, part leased and the balance state forest land. The Refuge will be surrounded by wire.

Harrisburg Sept. 19 (INS)—Application to discontinue passenger service between Dowler Junction, Clearfield county, and the village of Archibald, Indiana county, has been refused the Public Service Commission announce today.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 19 (INS)—Indictment of Doctor Cornelius M. Daily, prominent local physician, for murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Anna Manbeck, a widow, found dead in his office last June was to be asked of the Grand Jury here today.

If Dr. Daily is indicted, he will probably be placed on trial on Nov. 15, a special session of criminal court. Mr. Daily said Manbeck shot him and then killed herself. Discrepancies were found in his story however, and he was held for murder.

Philadelphia—Ill luck, which has pursued the family of Harry Oswald for several weeks, took its severest toll late yesterday when Charles Oswald, 34, fell into an old well on the grounds of an abandoned textile mill and was drowned. The boy's sister is seriously ill with pneumonia, his mother recently suffered a fractured skull, and his father lost two fingers in an accident.

Philadelphia—A dispute between two messengers in the postal service ended seriously last night when one drew a pistol and shot the other in the leg while scores looked on. Joseph Kelly, 17, was arrested after a chase and charged with shooting Samuel Richman, 20.

Philadelphia—Sir Ernest Rutherford, of Cambridge University, England, told an audience at the Franklin Institute centenary celebration here last night how he has succeeded in breaking up the atom, formerly considered the smallest possible chemical unit.

Sir Ernest said he is now able to smash the atoms of 13 different elements.

Using Wasted Energy—A French scientist has installed in his home a scheme to provide himself with electricity without cost beyond the initial cost of equipment. Upon his waterworks pipe, he has fitted a high-speed water turbine, which drives a dynamo charging a storage battery. Every time a tap is turned on in the house the stream of water is put to work at loading the battery which furnishes current for the electric lights and other purposes. "It is simply utilizing energy that is ordinarily wasted," says the inventor.

Ruskin's Wish Fulfilled—Did Ruskin anticipate the founding of the boy scouts and girl scouts? It would seem so from the following note to "Nesbitt and Lillies," which was published in 1893: "I wish there were a true order of chivalry instituted for our English youth of certain ranks in which each boy and girl should receive, at a given age, their knightship and knighthood by true title; attainable only by certain probations and trial both of character and accomplishment; and to be bestowed on conviction by their peers of any dishonorable act."—New York Evening Post.

Englishman's Afternoon Tea—Writes an Englishwoman: "The Frenchman dines with mellowness and joy in living. The American thrills by doing something differently. The German expands under the influence of opera with ham sandwiches. The English love of formalism makes tea a regular institution, and then proceeds about it except its everyday existence. Nor does this apply to any particular class. The cottage tea, with its big loaf and its thick black liquor, is just as much of an institution as is the cathedral tea, with its delicate bread from China and the bread and butter. There is the same warm and generous feeling about it as in the crispness of the falling leaf and the pungent smell of the burning and the glow of the flames against the blue mist of the darkening afternoon."

The Unloved Task—Even when we have learned the ordinary duties of life, so they no longer have power to fret us or rob us of sleep, the unaccustomed, or the unwanted retains a nightmare hold upon nerves and brain. How often we dislike a duty simply because it interferes with a plan, and we stew over the difficulties of our particular lot and sink the obstacle to peace in the same quietness of spirit we bring to the task we love. It is, perhaps, too much to ask of humankind that work we love shall be as alluring as that we loathe. But need the unloved task as a challenge to strength and patience, as without any doubt, in the light of the angels, something we need to do for our soul's good and get it done and over with.

Accuracy Always Valued—We all admire the thorough, painstaking person, for the reason that we know such persons place the right kind of an estimate on accuracy. True, they may not be regarded as having attained any speed records, but that fact gives us absolutely no concern. We believe in them because we know that they may in every situation be relied upon and we to our way happy in the knowledge that work turned out by such persons will fully "measure up."

All He Could Say for Them—Two famous actors, novices at the game, were playing golf. They were gradually but surely reducing the turf to an approximation of a plowed field. Finally their caddies felt that they could stand it no longer. One turned to the other with: "Did you say then we are actors, Jim?" "Yes, Jo," admitted the second, anguish and apology struggling in his voice. "Well," said the first, "all I can say is they can't make good scene shifters."

Left Him Thinking—A British envoy arrived at a town in eastern Europe with a large sum in specie and drove to the bank with the boxes, sitting beside the driver. "It is a long time since I drove across here," said the driver as the envoy rumbled over a bridge, that the mayor has about your excellency permission to use it. "Indeed?" replied the envoy, mildly startled. "Aren't the public asked to cross it?" "Not they," answered the driver. "It's been closed as unsafe for years."

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

A feature writer in a recent issue of the New York American hit the nail on the head several times in the following article on our public schools:

"A public school is the most American thing we have; its results are more like the flag than the results of anything else."

"Children come nearer getting a square deal in school than anywhere else, for childhood is the recipient nine-tenths of this life's brutality."

"Some teachers have pets and some teachers are so grouchy they should not work with the delicate stuff child minds are made of, but in the main the teacher gives a square deal and renders an incomparable service."

"Think what the public school does for slum children; it takes them away from filth, hunger, despair, and, leading them into a marvelous land of knowledge, bids them take all they can carry away!"

"To many children the public school is a respite from home cruelty, a vacation from grizzly bear firesides; the State gives countless boys and girls the only kindness they ever know."

"And this public school saves the lives of countless parents; if families were canned up at home all winter, an unbroken procession of ambulances would unload saving mothers to the asylums of our beloved land."

"Yes, some teachers are porcupines, but think of the wilderness of wild brutality we hand them—the mountain range of awful environment, and in return we expect these teachers to give us Edisons, Lincolns, and also Shakespeares."

"The public school is wrong about many things, it teaches much that is untrue; it jams childhood into a mold of iron; it rams rubbish down revolting souls; it crucifies personality all because it must minister unto the multitudes."

"The judgements are barbarous whenever it makes children take a whole year over if they fail in one part out of four or five."

"The final examination system all wrong; the pupil's daily recitation are the only just record of his progress."

"Many times the burdens are too heavy for this usually the fault of the parent, who wish to rush their children through ahead of sched-

run a museum, not a home! is the very best thing in the United States." "There's no occasion for a rush; the time's all preparatory until they're twenty-four or twenty-five—and the cemetery will wait!"

"Try to give the boy and girl a desire for knowledge—that's the all-important thing!"

"Get out of this education all you can, boys and girls, for the game before you is hard at best—and it is absolute bondage unless you know a lot!"

"You've got to issue your own Declaration of Independence—every one of you—and you can do it only with knowledge!"

"The public school has its faults, but it is the best friend any poor child ever had in all this world; it

Why Crescent Is Turkish Symbol.

When Constantinople was a Byzantine city, Philip, the father of Alexander the Great, tried to reduce it by siege. He was unsuccessful by day, and when he thought to take the city by surprise in the dark the crescent moon and stars appeared and exposed his warriors to the citizens. In honor of her protection of the city the Byzantines built a statue to Diana and made the crescent the symbol of the city.

Ever See a White Robin?

White robins are few and far between. Only about one out of every 6,000 robins turns out to be this color, say ornithologists. And here is one. Lillian Jones of Circleville, O., has sent it to the Cincinnati Zoological Gardens.

Old Roman Temple Found.

An ancient temple has been discovered in Rome. It is supposed to date from the time of Trajan (53-114 A. D.). The building is vaulted, and ornamented with columns and statues. The stucco work of the ceiling shows some very fine figures, one with open arms in the attitude of prayer, two offering a sacrifice, another the figure of a man leaning on a staff.

To Remove Wall Paper.

To remove wall paper in about half the time it usually takes, use a heap of tablespoonsful of saltpeter to a gallon of hot water, and apply it to the paper freely with a whitewash brush. Keep the water hot, and after a few applications you can easily pull the paper from the wall.

Alleviates Earache.

If earache does not occur often possibly home-treatment will alleviate the suffering, which is always so severe while it lasts. Wring out hot cloths and apply them to the ear. This often brings quick relief. Or moisten a small piece of cotton, saturated with sweet oil or laudanum and place it carefully in the ear. This is generally efficacious if the trouble is caused by the hardening of the wax.

The Balanced Nation.

We hear much of the balanced nation, and it is most important when you are feeding cows and chickens. But there is very little fear that the average healthy human being will fail to get an adequate amount and a proper and balanced proportion of the different kinds of food if he is given a good table and a free choice. There is no poorer economy than trying to skimp on food.—Washington Post.

Owl Stopped Wheels of Industry.

The curious combination of an owl and a steel trap in which the bird had become caught and flown away, trap and all, alighting on a high-powered electric cable carrying 11,000 volts of electricity to run a mill at Goolyear, Conn., stopped the power and threw several hundred men out of work for several hours. Linemen, after several hours' search, located the owl, burned it to a cinder.

Boils!

S.S.S. will rid you of boils, pimples, blackheads and skin eruptions!

DON'T CLOSE your eyes to the warning which Nature gives when angry, painful boils appear on your neck, face or other parts of your body. Boils, pimples and so-called skin disorders are the result of an impoverished condition of the blood and are not to be trifled with.

It is nothing more than folly to expect to get absolute relief from the use of local treatments, such as ointments, salves, etc. Such remedies may afford temporary relief but you want more than relief; you want a remedy which will rid you forever of the torturing disorder. And the one remedy which has no equal is S.S.S.

S.S.S. stops boils and keeps them from coming. S.S.S. builds blood-power! That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils! It fights skin eruptions—pimples, blackheads, eczema! It always wins! S.S.S. has been known since 1826 as one of the greatest blood builders, blood cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today and clear your skin of those blood disorders!

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

WORK FOR BOYS

The family of Richard Loeb has learned something from the fate of that misguided youth, and is determined that no other members shall follow his disastrous course. The solution is a simple one.

Richard, they figure, went wrong because of indulgence, idleness and responsibility. There will be no more coddling of Loeb sons. Thomas, aged 12, still at a formative age, has been sent to a big farm owned by the family in Michigan. He will be obliged to work as hard and continuously as the son of any poor farmer in the neighborhood, rising at dawn, doing regular chores and any other work assigned him. His older brother, Ernest, has been made manager of the farm and spends his whole time directing it.

Let this example be applied in a few thousand other cases around the country, and there will be some profit, after all, from that hideous Chicago murder.

TELEPHONE FAILINGS

"The telephone operator is often blamed by patrons," says an Illinois editor, "but the operator is an expert and is more apt to speak correctly than the individual who grabs up the instrument excitedly and jabbers instead of speaking softly, distinctly and carefully. The Eleventh Commandment might be, 'Remember thine own shortcomings'."

There is more truth than poetry in this testimonial to the long-suffering exchange girl. Despite her occasional lapses from perfection, she is, indeed, usually an "expert" in her line. Patrons could benefit greatly by observing and imitating her careful enunciation, her directness, her brevity and attention to business and her ability to get the most effective use out of a telephone instrument. Many an operator can communicate over a wire more clearly in a whisper than some subscribers do by shouting.

When all's said, however, the most admirable characteristic of the typical telephone operator is her patience with a careless, impatient and exasperating public. When she is treated as intelligently and courteously as she treats subscribers, there is seldom any trouble.

UNMENED ROADS

In a county where the main highways are going to pieces for lack of teamwork between the county and the incorporated villages and towns, a highway engineer makes this impressive statement:

"An expenditure of $50 a year will keep a mile of new pavement from deterioration. Neglect the road for a few years, and it will cost $5,000 to patch it."

These figures need not be taken too literally nor the contrast stretched too far. It is not likely that the $5,000 required to patch up a mile of long-neglected pavement would preserve a new pavement in its original perfection for 100 years. Yet there is more truth than fancy in the figures, and they drive home a needed lesson.

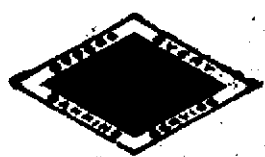

England has long been famous for its roads. Until the advent of the automobile, it maintained its macadam roads in perfect condition by keeping a road-mender and a stone pile along every main road at regular intervals of a mile or two, and it now maintains more solid pavements by the same policy. Americans are spending billions a year on new paving, and also losing billions a year because, when the paving is once laid, they usually neglect it for several years.

Checks Save Miles

A hundred years ago it was often necessary for a business man to travel many a rough mile with his money to settle an account.

Later it became possible to send his money by express. Today he merely sits at his desk and writes a check in settlement of an account at home or abroad.

A checking account at this bank is a mighty handy thing.

Progress Editorials for Women

WARDROBE PARADES

By FLORENCE L. LIES
Did it ever occur to you that we women aren't the senseless hoarders we are supposed to be?

Don't you remember the woman who kept stored up all her good linen and used second best for daily use? And the woman who kept the good china and silverware in a locked cabinet, and ate out of cracked ironstone and pewter? Also the woman who kept the old-fashioned parlor locked up and made the family sit uncomfortably in the kitchen?

They're practically all gone; when you do run across one of them nowadays you are struck with her oddity—and her futility.

But there was one hoarding trait which we used to accept as a common virtue; practically everybody kept their "best clothes" for state occasions and draped their bodies daily in poor seconds. We used to be told that if one were to be thought well-dressed she could never go out wearing her best new gown all the time.

We used to believe that. It's odd how times change ideas. In these days, when everybody wears her best as a matter of course, the world is noticeably better dressed. In the old days the best clothes got the parade, but the wearer was really occupying second place. The woman whose best clothes are worn only on special occasions is never really well-dressed at all. Her daily attire is obviously a penitential grubbing, a dutiful wearing out of old clothes. And the special occasions are quite as obviously an airing for the pride of the wardrobe; the wearer is too self-conscious of the fact to appear well-dressed, uncomfortable because of the strangeness of her clothes and her fear of hurting them.

No, if you can't wear clothes by living in them and up to them; if you and your clothes aren't one by association and affinity, you aren't well-dressed, now matter how many "best clothes" you may be wearing in the wardrobe parade.

GRAIN CLOSING

Chicago, Sept. 19. (INS.)—The grain market was irregular at the close today.

Wheat finished 1/4 at 1/2 higher; corn closed 1/4 at 1/2 off; oats finished 1/2 off to 1/2 up.

The general news on wheat was bullish and the market displayed a firm undertone. There was a good class of commission house buying in evidence as well as short covering, the latter induced by the strength at Canada.

News from the corn belt was generally bearish and the nervous market reacted to it readily.

Oats were inclined to follow corn. Provisions showed a good advance, the market entirely ignoring the drop in hog prices.

Curwensville's Own Column

Mrs. Elon Ireland, of Clearfield, Pa., is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Dornan, East George street.

It is reported that Cecil Baer hid himself up to Endicott the other day and brought back with him a bride. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Baer, Susquehanna avenue.

Jared Bloom, Scofield street, celebrated her 71st birthday. A dinner was given to her by the ladies of the Presbyterian church in the basement parlors of that edifice. The old lady was the recipient of many congratulations by her hundred or more friends.

Messrs. Harry Gates and John Wright were in Punxsutawney Wednesday evening attending a session of the hardware men's association. It was a district affair and composed of three counties of which Clearfield is one.

From what information that the school board could gather yesterday from the members of the school board, the new heating system in the school building will be ready for use later than the last day of school, which means that there will be no suspension of school hours for the new year. Last week the pupils of the building lost several days of school on account of the rooms being out of order.

Through Council met in executive session Wednesday evening the first meeting for over a month. All members were present, and quite a number of resolutions were received at the meeting. A proposition for a new addition to the residents residing in the fifth addition in Second Ward was discussed at some length. The bridge over the street was reported as sold to Curwensville National Bank at par value. The street and sidewalk committees reported on the duties that had been assigned to them a month previous. Several petitions were asked for new street crossings and some other business. A resolution was passed regarding Crescent Refractories Company for the loan of iron rails used in temporary bridge at foot of Walnut street, same having been returned in rather fair condition. A petition asking that Council pay for police service at the Park on Field Day. On motion a donation of five per cent which should have been paid to Park Fund, was rescinded and Field Day managers pay policemen from that fund. Secretary and members of Board of Health asked Council for a donation of $100.00 with which to meet current expenses. Tabled until an itemized statement is furnished by Board of Health.

The pay roll was a sort of a double header this time no wages for labor or bills having been paid out since last session of Council. Vouchers for street work, police, service, etc. were drawn for the amount of $592.33. Bills rendered and ordered paid, $726.32. The bridge question was not on the board this time, but Mr. Bloom made a clear and concise statement of the part he took in the changes that had been made while the bridge was under construction. By a unanimous vote his action regarding to any changes made under his sanction was acceptable to the members of Council and no reflection of "his taking the bull by the horns" as some termed it, was entertained by Council, either as a body or as individuals. No further business appearing on the record book, Council adjourned to meet again on first Monday in October.

The Curwensville High School football team opens the season tomorrow afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Football Park along the river bank, with the Falls Creek High School team. It is reported that the Falls Creek team is stronger this year than ever before. They expect to have a very easy game with the Curwensville boys. The Falls Creek boys have always been a clean and acceptable team. Coach Black says that he is willing to go down in defeat under such a good bunch of fellows but he feels that they will have to play hard to win.

Last night at the K-9 Kennel at Irwin Park Hon. Haley Betts and G. M. Alcorn, of DuBois, brought a large delegation from that city to be initiated into the Transcendental Order of Yellow Dogs. About 500 men were present to receive them. They went home feeling that it was a "worthwhile" visit and that it pays to shake hands even across the mountains. Mr. Alcorn said that the DuBois people would see that the posts and trees along the State Highway were painted white.

Getting Stand of Sweet

Clover on Alkali Soils

Farmers throughout the corn belt have found that in many cases it is possible to get a stand of sweet clover on alkali spots when it was impossible to grow anything else. In some cases corn might grow to a height of four or five feet but then it would dry and the soil would be left in a hard, cracked condition. Oats would crumble and go down.

In years that are dry it is more noticeable than when the spring has been very wet. In a wet spring the alkali goes down into the ground. This excess of alkali, when present in a large area, has been remedied by tilling early. This was followed by a heavy application of straw horse manure. The main idea is to loosen up the soil and allow the alkali to seep down with the rains.

Utilizing Sweet Clover

Depends Upon Its Needs

The best way to utilize sweet clover depends largely upon whether hay or pasture is needed. The first crop of the second year, if cut early and high enough, may be used for hay, and the second crop come on for seed. It is advisable to cut the first crop just as the blossom buds form and before they come into bloom. At least two or three leaves should be left attached to the stubble of each plant. If the first crop is cut before the leaves and branches, there will be no second crop. When the second crop is harvested for seed, the seed should be threshed with a grain separator. If the growth is not very rank, it may be threshed with a clover cutter.

Farm Records Will Pay

It pays to keep farm records. Let each member of the family have a department in the ledger to keep up. It's a lot of satisfaction at the end of the year to know just how much you earned and how much you spent. Even if the "profits" are on the wrong side of the ledger, you'll feel better to have an accurate record rather than to guess at it.

Feminine Nature.

Feminine nature, fortunately, remains about the same from generation to generation and, while we have no reliable statistics at hand at the moment, we do not believe that the higher education of women has resulted in any appreciable diminution in the world's supply of giggling.—Ohio State Journal.

Height of Clouds.

Thunderstorm clouds are very variable in height—from 500 to 2,000 feet. The clouds in thunderstorms may be very deep—from two to five miles and hence the appearance as to distance is very deceptive. Cumulus clouds are intermediate, and generally occupy a position from 2,000 to 5,000 feet above the earth.

renovating Strawberry Patch After Harvesting The strawberry patch which has borne one crop should be renovated soon after harvest. This is done by plowing out the plants on either one or both sides of the row, leaving a strip only about four inches wide. The soil of the plowed land is thoroughly cultivated and, if a spike-toothed harrow is used, cross-cultivation may be practiced so that a good bed is made for the new runner plants. Under good soil conditions these will start to grow within a short time and will make a row of new plants 12 to 16 inches wide by early fall. The new plants are confined to the proper width by continuing cultivation until they cease to grow.

Usually it does not pay to renovate a commercial strawberry patch that has already produced two crops, although a home patch, under very favorable conditions, may be allowed to yield three and sometimes four crops.

Handling Broody Hens

Is Problem for Owners

How to handle the broody hen in the general purpose flock is a problem that confronts flock owners every summer. If there are such things as plagues in the poultry business the broody hen is perhaps the worst one. A good way to overcome the broody instinct is to confine the hens in slatted coops, suspended in the sheds. Confine them the first evening the remain on their nests, but feed and water abundantly the same as you do the non-broody hens.

Proper Temperature Is Important in Churning No factor is so important in the proper temperature. The temperature will vary between the limits of 50 degrees in summer and 65 degrees in winter. For a minimum loss of fat in the buttermilk and a good firm butter the churning process should take from 30 to 45 minutes. When churning is accomplished in 10 or 15 minutes the butter always comes soft and there is a great loss of fat in the buttermilk.

Kill Gophers by Poison

Gophers can best be killed by placing poison in their burrows, according to C. E. Mickel, of the University of Minnesota. He recommends a mixture of one-eighth ounce of powdered strychnin alkaloid, one-eighth ounce of baking soda, and one-eighth ounce of succharin. These amounts are sufficient to poison four quarts of vegetable bait. Potatoes, carrots, parsnips, beets and turnips make especially good bait, covered with the poison.

Best Garden Fertilizer

While barnyard manure is the best fertilizer for the garden, still the garden fertilizer that comes in bags is a good substitute and has, at times, advantages of its own. Now, that automobiles and motor trucks are taking the place of horses there will be less horse manure and though cow manure can be substituted the results are not so satisfactory as when old-time manure consisting of both horse and cow manure was used.

The "Parakeet"

A small bird of the parrot family now rarely if ever seen in Indiana, was, half a century ago, somewhat numerous in the southern part of the state. This bird, the parakeet, or as called by the early settlers of this state, the "parakeet," is the Carolina parrot and is now scarcely known outside the swamps of Florida.

She Was Interested. A child who recently moved into the neighborhood became so interested in a young woman that daily she would wait for her to pass the house. One day she walked right in the woman's way and smiling said, "Whose mamma are you?"

Many Do. More advice is given and less followed on the subject of marriage than on anything else. A woman teacher who has preached against teachers marrying has acted contrary to her own advice.—Buffalo Commercial.

Wasting Her Time. "What do you think of a man who would spend his evening with his arm around the back of a girl's chair?" "Looks like wasting the girl's time. I'd let him spend the evening with the chair."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Salt Held in Reverence. The superstitions with regard to salt are endless. That the spilling of salt is unlucky is perhaps the commonest of all superstitious beliefs, and prevails in the kitchen as well as at the table. There are Scottish households where salt is still held in such reverence that the saltcellar used at the family table is invariably kept standing on the family Bible.

Broke Up Housekeeping. "We had to break up housekeeping because of my wife's stomach trouble. No medicine did her any good for more than a few hours. On a visit to Oshkosh a friend, praised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy so highly my wife tried it and she has enjoyed the best of health since taking it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the extraneous mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

JORDAN'S

Myrlene Allen of Covington, Ky., is only 18 months old—but she can read the alphabet as good as the average adult. This picture here was taken during a test judges, educators, newspapermen and others gave her.

Thought Kept Him Alive. Murphy was making his first trip across the Atlantic and he felt unspokenly awful. He failed to connect the fact of his being on the briny ocean for the first time with his agony. The doctor came to him as he tossed about in his berth. "Cheer up, man," he said heartily. "I know you're feeling rotten, but you're not going to die." Murphy opened horrified eyes. "Not going to die?" he wailed. "Faith, doctor, I thought I was! That was the only thing that kept me alive."

Ancient Egyptians Lived Well. The ancient Egyptians had mansions supplied with gardens, orchards, fish ponds and game preserves; they were acquainted with the benefits of the rotation of crops, and bred poultry extensively, practicing artificial hatching as we do at the present time. As early as 4514 B. C. or 6,231 years ago, irrigation became an object of national importance to the Egyptians.

Cliff and Cave Dwellers. The cliff dwellers knew nothing of the use of metals. Their knives were made from the bones of the deer, highly polished and very sharp. Their household utensils consisted of pottery jars and casks made of fiber and covered with a substance resembling modern varnish. Although the earliest cliff dwellers were prehistoric, cave dwellers have existed in almost every age of the world. The ancient Egyptians derived their name from their practice of living in caverns and subterranean abodes.

She Was Interested. A child who recently moved into the neighborhood became so interested in a young woman that daily she would wait for her to pass the house. One day she walked right in the woman's way and smiling said, "Whose mamma are you?"

Many Do. More advice is given and less followed on the subject of marriage than on anything else. A woman teacher who has preached against teachers marrying has acted contrary to her own advice.—Buffalo Commercial.

Wasting Her

Forms Own Trimming

MATERIALS this season are easily manipulated to form their own trimming. Notice how in this frock of black crepe-back satin the skirt is made of reversed blocks of the material to form a deep border. A narrow band of fur trims the collar and cuffs and a few buttons and tailored bows are added at advantageous positions.

About Hobbies.

Every hobbyist can extol his hobby above all others and there is something to be said for each one. Collectors of every sort of objects, from shells to stamps; students of every subject, from snailfish to stars, find special mental reasons for interest in their particular line. And the reason for preference would make a very remarkable collection of wordy arguments.

Paper Plates for Pets.

Using paper plates for animal pets will be found a good and sanitary way. Some people do not care to have the plates kept for dogs and cats, although they should be kept scrupulously clean and used for no other purpose. Why not, then, use paper plates, which may be bought by the hundreds for very little money, and which may be burned or thrown away after they have been used.

The Really Truthful Man.

A really truthful man is one who sticks to the facts in spite of opportunities to embellish his story with fiction.

Some Idea of a Garden.
Letter from a "moderately sensible" man to a seed merchant: "Dear Sir—Having one-quarter acre of ground not used for anything but growing potatoes. I wish to make it into a profitable and attractive garden. Please send me one dozen strawberry seeds; one bee with hive complete; one dozen plum seeds; ten square yards of grass; one concrete path, winding; six fall flowers, with six pieces of wall; one safety lawn mower, with patent apparatus for converting it into a safety razor. And please send enough baskets to hold the strawberry and plum crops, and side and back combs for the honey. The grass should be green—not the withered kind I see in so many gardens—and the seeds of a flavor unsuitable for chickens. Yours truly, A. F. Ool."

Prefer Irregular Lines.

The straight line is an abomination to the Chinese. They endeavor to avoid it in their streets and buildings, and have banished it completely, where country field paths are concerned. They will always substitute a curve wherever possible or they will texture it with a zigzag. To the Chinese mind the straight line is suggestive of death and demons.

We Ask Men

To protect their hair

By Edna Wallace Hopper
I speak for all women when I say that we want men to keep their locks. And above all, their hair.

The women do that. You would never forgive us if we did not. We beg you to follow our example.

My whole career on the stage has depended largely on my hair. So many years ago I went to France and secured the best hair helps she knew. And I have kept up with every new discovery.

The result is my hair as you see it. It is thick and lustrous, finer far than 40 years ago. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, and never a touch of gray. Now countless women who use what I use are attaining like results.

I am offering to women the best I have found, and men are always welcome. My Hair Youth combines the utmost that modern science knows. I am sure that no one knows anything for the hair which does what this combination does.

I apply it with an eye-dropper directly to the scalp. Applying tonics to the hair is ridiculous. The whole thing lies in the scalp, in the roots, and there my Hair Youth goes. It combats the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. It tones and stimulates the scalp. Hair thrives on such a soil as flowers thrive by like methods.

I believe that my Hair Youth now combines the greatest hair helps in existence. I have never seen anything else which brought comparable results.

Now I have placed it in every drug store, on every toilet counter. All who desire may obtain it. The name is Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth. I authorize every dealer to return the price to anyone who claims the slightest disappointment.

Write for my Beauty Book and I'll send it with something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

Soap Economy.

New soap is about the most expensive thing there is. If you possess it up at once into one and one-half inch thick blocks. Store these in very dry, rather warm cupboard, pile them up after the fashion of a child building bricks, i. e., so that they practically do not touch each other. The will then dry and harden right through, and while the cleansing power of the soap will be in no way diminished it will last twice as long.

Daily Thought:
There is but one straight road to success and that is merit.—Bourke Cochran.

All He Knew About His Meal.

Having finished his meal the diner called for his check. "Let's see," said the waiter, "what did you have?" "Can't tell for the life of me," was the reply; "but what I ordered was minced chicken."—Boston Transcript.

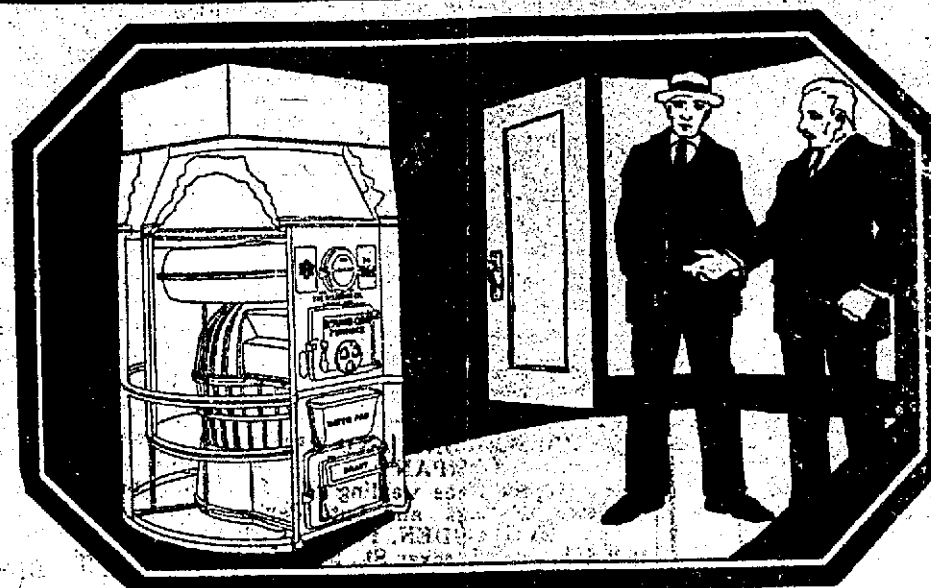

Queen of Hearts.

The name, Queen of Hearts, was given in the low countries to Elizabeth, daughter of James I and the unfortunate queen of Bohemia. When her fortune was at the lowest, she never lost her dignity of spirit, and poverty and distress only rendered her the more an object of admiration.

CHURCH NOTICE

New Millport, Curwensville Lutheran pastorate.

There will be preaching in the following churches on Sunday Sept. 21st New Millport, 10:45 a. m. Olanta 3:00 p. m. Curwensville, 7:30 p. m. Rev. J. B. It Cannot Not Leak, Gas, Dust, or Smoke

The air is always warm and clean, never "gassy"—the housecleaning is never made a burden by fine soot and ashes settling everywhere—when your home is heated with a Round Oak Pipeless Heating System. It is bolted gas-tight for life—and "life" in its case means a whole generation.

Everything the Round Oak Folks make is good—as 3,000,000 purchasers can testify. This furnace is easy to install, easy to operate, and "easy" on fuel of any kind.

ROUND OAK IRONBILT FURNACE

Arrange for yours now. We can also make very liberal terms on immediate contracts. Service and quality considered, it is, without question, the greatest possible value. When you divide the investment into the years of its usefulness, you sense why it is the wise choice.

With Every "Round Oak" Purchased We Will Give FREE of Charge, One Little Draughtman Heat Regulator.

THE OTHELLO RANGE

A product which has become famous entirely through merit.

This range was first introduced to the trade in 1880. From the beginning, it demonstrated itself as being "so right" in principles of construction that there has never been found any room for improvement. Changes in its outward design have been called for, at intervals, in order that its appearance might be in keeping with the shifting demand for much, medium, or little ornamentation.

The marvelous sale of the Othello Range during the period of its history (forty-three years), is but another proof that there is always a market for the best. To say that three hundred thousand Othello Ranges are now in use, in the United States, would perhaps be under, rather than overstating the number. That it is a strictly high-grade range and commands a corresponding price, has interfered not one whit with the demand for it; showing how large a part of the purchasing public have the money, and are willing to lay it down, for the article which is right.

Great Free Offer During This Sale

With every OTHELLO range sold during the Fair we will give absolutely FREE one porcelain enamel kitchen table which ordinarily sells for $12. We do this as a special offer during Fair Week only.

New York, Sept. 19. (INS.)—The National League race today was tighter than a Scotchman during thirt week, with Brooklyn one-half game behind the Giants and Pirates two and a half games behind the champions still in the race. The Dodgers began their last hard series of season today with Pittsburgh, while the Giants took on the Cubs.

The Yankees and Senators were still crowding each other in the upper berth in the American League today, with fireworks in sight as the champions came to grips with the Tigers. The Senators took on the Browns whom they have found easy pickings all season.

TAGGING ALL BASES

The Reds threw a monkey wrench into McGraw's machine by trimming the Giants, 5 to 3, but the champions came back and won the second game 7 to 5 on Gowdy's single. Laque and Bentley were the winning pitchers.

Brooklyn sucked the Cardinals twice, 7 to 5 and 4 to 2, and crept up to within half a game of the Giants. Wheat's homer won the first game in the 12th as Vance hung up his 15th straight victory.

The Pirates passed up a chance to clinch by losing to the Phillies, 6 to 5, but stayed in the race by winning the next game in the ninth, 6 to 2.

The Senators maintained their dizzy pace both winning and remaining atop the lead. The champions lost the Browns in the 10th 2 to 1, a home run by Wagner, their south paw, after timing it up in the 9th, as Bush's first home run of the season.

The Dodgers made it three straight by defeating the Indians by a five-run rally in the ninth, 5 to 0, Washington 9, Philadelphia 0.

The Athletics made the Tigers look like a team by outlasting them in the 10th, 1 to 0, in the three-game series.

The White Sox drew further away from the leaders by claiming the Red Sox a score of 7 to 3. Eddie Collins' drive hit in as many as 100 feet.

The Cubs and the Braves exchanged blows, the Braves winning the first game in the 11th 1 to 0, while the Cubs came out of the other in the 10th 1 to 0, behind Greenwell's homer, 3 to 1.

Up to the Standard.

People who go in for speed records are not as wise as they think they are; speed without accuracy is of no avail. True, time is at a premium in every line these days, and we should not under any circumstances waste a minute unnecessarily. But if we aren't sure about any phase of our work we must take sufficient time to go into it and not rely on chance to help us where we cannot possibly help ourselves.

To Polish Furniture.

To polish mahogany furniture, take a quart of clear water and a half a pound of good strong vinegar. Mix the solution in a clean glass jar and use as follows: Wipe the surface to be polished and polished with dry cloth. If first application does not improve the finish, repeat the operation in about a week.

Trees in Greenland.

Lately trees once grew in Greenland and nearly all of the inhospitable northern lands. Trees of the same sort are growing today are found as fossil remains in countries where the climate is now so harsh that scarcely any tree will grow even a few inches high.

Great Burma Rice Crop.
Burma is the world's largest producer of rice and, though less than a tenth of the crop is exported, even then her exports constitute more than half the rice which comes into international trade. The Burma rice crop averages twenty-eight million tons a year, and upwards of two and one-half million tons are exported.

Fireproof Papers.
Patents have been taken out at various times for paper which is claimed to be proof against fire, and therefore particularly suitable for documentary records. Most of these contain asbestos or a similar mineral fiber, with or without the addition of clays or metallic salts.

For the Busy Man.
To remind business men of engagements, a cabinet has been invented with a pigeonhole for every fifteen minutes, memorandum placed in a hole completing an electric circuit that rings a bell and flashes a light when the time for that hole arrives.

A Warning.
After poor Digby had been floored by ptomaine poisoning after a luncheon at a Chinese restaurant, Wagley, the facetious physician, pronounced it an attempt at chop-suey-icide, which explains why it was the physician and not the patient who was taken to the hospital in the ambulance. —Chicago Herald.

When Women Ruled.
Ethiopia was described by the Greeks and Romans as the country which lay to the south of Egypt. Shortly before the birth of Jesus a native dynasty of women, holding the official title of Candace held sway in Ethiopia and even resisted the advance of Roman arms. One of these is the queen noticed in Acts 8:27.

Embarrassment.
In all probability there is no state of embarrassment more acute than that which is suffered by the bald man who has to sit through a long sermon based on the text: "Even the hairs of your head are numbered." —Philadelphia Inquirer.

Different Methods.
Many women get a red nose from shedding too many tears over a man who got a red nose from taking too many "smiles." —Farm Life.

Autumn's Finest Style Showing

Not Alone Quality but Reasonable Prices Prevail

Complete to the last detail are these showings of the authentic styles in Coats, Dresses and Millinery. They have been selected from thousands of models displayed by many of the world's foremost manufacturers and designers of women's wear. The smartness of design and trimming, the richness of materials and colorings and the beauty of the furs used on all fur-trimmed garments make them by far the choicest collection to be found anywhere. Choose your new garments for Fall and Winter now from these most favored styles of the new season.

CHARMING NEW FALL COATS

Characterized by the tendency toward simplicity, these coats forecast with absolute correctness the mode that is and which will be this Autumn and Fall. In their very plainness lies their charm, emphasized by contrasting color composition buttons and slight trimming features which are used with splendid taste. Fabrics, too, are highly interesting which, in conjunction with the varied styles, and attractive price range presents to every woman the opportunity to make a distinguished choice within her means of expenditure.

STYLISH FALL DRESSES

Sleeves of dresses are long and tight and are set in at the normal arm-hole. For the most part they are untrimmed. Novelty is occasionally introduced by the use of underarm patches in contrasting fabrics giving the effect of a camisole guimpe.

Dress trimmings feature braid, applique, motifs of cretonne embroidered in chenille, paillettes of kid, pipings of kid and buttons of all descriptions.

The new neckline is square or pointed and shows an encrusted collar in contrasting fabric; scarf collars of the fabric, which suggest the high collar style is also prominent.

Smart New Millinery

Autumn's rich colors add brilliance to fall hats. Small they are mostly, displaying high crowned shapes with narrow rolled or straight brims. In these types the Japanese influence is seen. Trimmings are conspicuous by their absence, a fancy band, or a band in itself fabric, a tuft of wings or aigrettes, or a single feather are decorative features. Diversity is the keynote of our millinery display, in shapes, color trend and price range.
